Reception Sounds-Write Long Term Phonic Planning
2019-2020

Only when the YR children are confident and competent in the three Initial Code skills of segmenting, blending and phoneme manipulation using the IC units, they will be taught units 1-5 of the Extended Code. If children are not ready for this step, further teaching and revision of the Initial Code will be undertaken.*

Using the Sounds-Write programme, high frequency words are taught within the context of the related 'code', not as stand along sight words. However, as YR children have not yet been taught all the required code for some of the most common high frequency words, these are taught alongside the Initial Code to enable the children to access books that are not entirely phonetic. These words are denoted by green highlighting.

Phonically matched guided and home reading books

Where there is a Sounds-Write reading book that matches the unit/code being taught, that book will be used during that weeks' guided reading session and as the following weeks home reading book. Where no Sounds-Write book exists to match the code being taught, it is supplemented with books from the Rigby Star scheme.*

Year 1 Sounds-Write Long Term Phonic Planning

2019-2020

In addition to the suggested EC units for Y1, further units from the suggested Y2 list are taught for one week in preparation for the Phonics Test (see Sounds-Write sounds and their spellings for Y1 Phonics test document). These units will be revisited for one further week in Y2. Three other units will be taught later / out of cycle in Y2 as they do not appear in the Y1 phonic test, so they can afford to be taught at a later date.*

Rationale: for code with 4 spellings or less one week of teaching will be allocated. For code with 5+ spellings it will be allocated teaching time or seven or eight days.

Phonically matched guided and home reading books

Where there is a Sounds-Write reading book that matches the unit/code being taught, that book will be used during that weeks' guided reading session and as the following weeks home reading book. Where no Sounds-Write book exists to match the code being taught, it is supplemented with books from the Rigby Star scheme.*

Year 2 Sounds-Write Long Term Phonic Planning

2019-2020

As three units do not appear in the Y1 phonic test, in order to allow sufficient time to teach each unit effectively, they are being taught out of sequence at the end of Y1 and in Y2.

Rationale: for code with 4 spellings or less one week of teaching will be allocated. For code with 5+ spellings it will be allocated teaching time of seven or eight days.

Where the EC unit has already been taught out of sequence in Y1 in preparation for the Phonics Test, it is revisited for only one week in Y2, regardless of the number of spellings for that code (as they have already been taught).*

Phonically matched guided and home reading books

Where there is a Sounds-Write reading book that matches the unit/code being taught, that book will be used during that weeks' guided reading session and as the following weeks home reading book. However, there are no Sounds-Write matched books for the code taught in Y2, so all guided and home reading books are taken from the Rigby Star scheme.*
